EXECUTIVE SUMMARY/SWOC ANALYSIS
N.A.M COLLEGE KALLIKKANDY

N.A.M College Kallikkandy is the materialization of a dream of an educationally and socially backward people in the south-east region of Kannur District in Kerala. The Muslim population in the region, despite its recent relative economic improvement achieved through employment in Gulf countries, noticeably lags behind in the matter of educational and social advancement. Considering this situation, the Muslim Educational Foundation, Panoor, started this center for higher learning, N.A.M College (named after Janab N.A. Mammu Haji, a philanthropist and for MLA) in 1995. The college started functioning with three undergraduate programmes (B.A. History, B.Sc Computer Science and B.Com) in Imdadul Islam Madrassa in Kallikkandy town on 16-06-1995. Later on three more undergraduate programmes (BSc. Polymer Chemistry, B.Sc Mathematics and B.A English) two post-graduate programmes (M.Com, Govt. aided and M.Sc Computer Science, unaided) were started. The college was shifted to the present site in 1997.

Academic brilliance, personality development, social commitment and political orientation are general objectives of the college. The fundamental aim of the institution is to facilitate its students to achieve academic brilliance and personal dexterity to deal with the contemporary situation and opportunities in the job market in our country and aboard. Furthermore, the college facilitates the molding of the students belonging mostly to minority community in rural areas in an appropriate curricular and co-curricular construct as ideal citizens who would promote the values of secularism, national integration and social commitment. Students of the college have engraved their names in the academic horizon of Kannur University by winning highest grades and ranks. In the sphere of co-curricular activities as well they have proved their merit worthy of being imprinted in university rolls.

Excellent faculty in different disciplines with commendable pedagogical and research experience, adequate laboratory and library facilities, remarkable extension/outreaching activities for the development of the locality, Women Resource Center sponsored by Kerala IT Mission, various women empowerment programmes etc constitute the strength of the college.

Social backwardness of the region where the college is located, aloof approach of most of the parents/guardians from minority community to higher education obstructing educational advancement of students, of whom majority are girls, dropouts in undergraduate programmes, shortage of facilities for co-curricular activities, inadequate conveyance for students etc show the weakness of the institution.

Being a Muslim minority college with girls constituting majority of student community from the same community, there are many opportunities as far the curricular and co-curricular advancement of the institution are concerned. Introduction of more post-graduate programmes, opening of research centers and expansion of the activities of Women's Resource Centre with pertinent courses, creation of more infrastructure facilities, supplementary extension activities with the support of the local people and new women empowerment programmes aimed at girl students and women of the locality, to mention a few, are prospective opportunities for the institution.

With regard to the points of challenges, the most important one is to generate sufficient resources for obtaining new facilities, besides meeting everyday maintenance expenditure. Acknowledging munificent financial assistance of the UGC for various purposes, the college still seeks more grants from the Commission. Although the College Management had already invested a large amount of money, it has to find further sources of funds in its own way for the future progress of the institution. Construction of a new block of building and playground with complementary facilities, getting the sanction of the government for more teaching posts are challenges ahead of us. At the same time making a shift in the societal attitude to higher education of girls from minority community is a major challenge, for which the institution using its entire human resources (students, faculty, non-teaching staff, alumina, and other stakeholders) has to strive hard in a long term perspective. In fact, societal change is the ultimate challenge as far as this college is concerned.

There is a centralized Admission Committee in respect of all departments in the college, which meticulously reviews the process of admission and examines student profiles by the end of the year. The profiles of admitted students are collected at the beginning of every academic year and their skills and interests are identified by the faculty members, especially the tutors. Subsequently necessary steps have been taken by the concerned departments for upcoming admission process.

2.1.5 Reflecting on the strategies adopted to increase/improve access for following categories of students, enumerate on how the admission policy of the institution and its student profiles demonstrate/reflect the National commitment to diversity and inclusion

Though it is a minority community institution, it endorses the spirit of the Constitution of India and expresses its concern for equity and social justice through the admission process.

a. SC/ST

Students from SC/ST category are allotted 20% seats as per the state's reservation polices and rules. Fee exemption/concession and scholarship benefits are also extended to these students according to rules and regulations of the Government of Kerala. As students from these communities are normally reluctant to apply for degree programmes, the college repeatedly publish notification of seats reserved for SC/ST category in all the regional/national newspapers, namely Siraj, Veekshanam, Chandrika, Madhyamam. In case no reserved category of students appeared for these seats, minority students were admitted instead.

b. OBC

There is no provision for reservation of admission for OBC students. However, the Management quota is mostly filled with the Mappila Muslim students, who belong to OBC category.

c. Women

Although there are no separate reservation rules for the admission of women, it is remarkable that above 80% of students in the intuition are girls.

d. Differently-abled

One seat is reserved for the differently-abled in each programme as per the rules outlined by the Government of Kerala.

e. Economically-weaker sections

No reservation for economically weaker sections. However, the Management of the college often consider economically weak and meritorious students through management quota for admission.

BEST PRACTICE - 2

1. Title of the Practice

   Initiatives for Women Empowerment

2. Goal

   Empowerment of women is an important objective of the college; hence it has been developed as the second best practice through a number of programmes aimed at empowering girls. Though education is the most important means of women empowerment, there are various complementary means as well for this purpose.

3. The Context

   Majority of the students in the college are girls from Muslim community. Nowadays, women are experiencing a complex situation of several social, cultural and economic hindrances in their everyday life. In recent years there has been a phenomenal increase in the enrolment of girls in various programmes in the college. At the same time there is an unprecedented rate of girls drop-out. It is in this context, a debate among the faculty members on this issue and attempts to derive a solution led to the evolution of women empowerment as the best practice.

4. The Practice

   Activities of NAM Women's Forum

   Originally a committee for Women's Welfare was constituted on 1 October 2004 with the objective of women empowerment at individual level, family level, occupational level and societal level. Later the committee was renamed as N.A.M Women's Forum.

   Female health and hygiene, pre-marital counselling, pregnancy and population control, maternity and related issues, awareness about AIDS, child psychology, female education, family management, food processing, marketing management, financial management, handicrafts works etc form various activities in connection with this best practice.

   Following is a list of major programmes organized by the Women's Forum. Participation of local women, especially members of Kudumbashree (a self-help

The department has a number of constructive aspects to be proud of.

Points of strength are the following:

- Fully furnished staff room with all state of the art facilities like laptop and desktop computer, printer, INFLIBNET.
- Dedicated faculty

Points of weaknesses are the following:

- The department does not have a post-graduate programme, which adversely affects the higher education prospectus of the students of this remote area.
- Most of the student have selected Mathematics as a core subject by chance, not by choice, which result in dropouts and poor result
- Students do not have adequate basis of mathematical knowledge for undergraduate level studies, which is at length shown in the result

- Students do not have adequate proficiency in English language.
- About 10% of female students drop their degree programme for marriage.

Our opportunities are the following:

- To promote learning and research activities
- To undertake various projects for nearby school students to enhance their mathematical skills
- To provide special coaching for competitive examinations

The challenges ahead of us are the following:

- To generate interest in Mathematics
- To uplift the result percentage to a remarkably good level
- To start Government aided P.G Programme in Mathematics
- To improve the research engagements of the faculty by joining Doctoral programmes and obtaining Minor/Major research projects.
- To obtain funds for seminars, workshops and other academic pursuits to improve the academic standard of both the students and faculty.

35. SWOC analysis of the department and Future plans

The department has several outstanding positive factors to be highlighted

Points of strength are the following:

- An excellent and competent faculty and conscientious Students
- The departmental library and book bank
- Sufficiently furnished staff room with facilities like laptop and desktop computers, scanners, printers, purified drinking water, Wi-Fi internet connectivity.
- Association of Commerce Department and Commerce Forum runs a magazine and conduct academic and cultural programmes.
- The courses offered by the department are highly demanded and suitable for the present globalised economy and to the local emigrant community.
- The department has active and supportive alumnae, especially in gulf countries.

Points of weaknesses are the following:

- The department does not have a research centre which adversely affects the higher education prospectus of the students.
- Students do not have adequate skill in English
- Since the college is located in the remote area, the department finds it difficult to provide industrial exposure to the students and to attract prospective employers for campus recruitment

Our opportunities are the following:

- Growing demand for commerce and accounting professionals in the globalised scenario.
- To monitor the financial activities of Kudumbashree (self-help group of women) and preparation of their accounts, which offer a fine opportunity to the students and faculty to enrich their intellectual competence in the subject.

- Training to selected members of Merchant Associations in the locality on income tax and sale tax procedures
- To offer courses in foreign accounting and practical accounting.

The challenges ahead of us are the following:

- To start a research centre in commerce
- To start a commerce lab with documents and instruments used in commerce and business world.
- To improve the research engagements of the faculty by obtaining Minor/Major research projects.
- To obtain more funds for seminars, workshops and other academic events to improve the academic standard of both the students and faculty.
